Darby designs winning strategy at The Architects'

The Ball Strikers have been playing The Architects' for a long time. A few of us can take it or leave it, but most of us really like to play there. Include me among the latter. My only knock on the venue is that it is a bit of a hike to get there. About as far as you can go and still be playing a Jersey course. On the plus side, its long (is that a plus ???), challenging and well kept with courteous, and attentive staff.

How does it feel when you sign on to play a Ball Striker event 24 hours before tee off after spending a week partying hard in Jamaica? It must feel pretty good; just ask Anthony Darby. He shot net 69 to win the Architects' stroke play competition and won his individual match. This being a major event allowed Darby to bank 80 Shippen Cup points.

Four Ball Strikers scored T2 in stroke play, one stroke behind Darby. They were George Thomas, Earl Fraser, Allen Smith and Zack Yamba. Match play winners at The Architects' were Keith Davenport, Earl Fraser, David Williams,

Three Ball Strikers have separated themselves from the rest of the field in the 2024 Shippen Cup race. Tony Jenkins, Greg Ward and Zack Yamba are 1, 2 and 3 respectively. They are separated by less than 10 points. So, with 160 points at stake in the remaining two major Cup events, we are looking at a dead heat. Whichever golfer excels at Club Champ Weekend (CCW) will win the title.

Should all three falter, any one of the remaining top 13 golfers could steal the title with an extra special CCW performance. But who is going to falter? Four-peat, going for five-peat club champ, Tony Jenkins. Zack Yamba, who won the 2023 Shippen Cup title by an, unprecedented, 171 points. Or Greg Ward, who is always near the top of the Shippen Cup leaderboard. Good luck with that.

So stay tuned. Every event from here on out will be consequential
