BALL STRIKER REPORT

By Anthony Darby

Championship Saturday at Neshanic: The First 18 Set the Stage

Twenty-seven NJ Ball Strikers arrived at Neshanic Valley on Saturday with championship golf on the agenda. The weather cooperated beautifully. Sunshine, temperatures in the low 80s and a golf course ready to be attacked gave the field everything it could ask for. The greens certainly took their share of punishment—and judging by the number of pitch marks being repaired throughout the day, the Strikers were giving themselves plenty of opportunities.

Twenty-five players were eligible to compete for Club Championship honors, while all 27 remained part of the day's Shippen Cup competition. Earning a place in the Club Championship field is itself a product of the season. To be eligible, a member must have participated in at least 50% of the club's regular-season events. The requirement ensures that the championship isn't simply about who plays well on one weekend—it rewards the members who have competed alongside the club throughout the year and earned the opportunity to play for its championships.

This was supposed to be only the first half of a 36-hole championship weekend. Instead, Saturday became the opening chapter of a championship that will have to wait a little longer for its ending.

Jenkins Grabs the Pole Position

Among the championship-eligible players, Tony Jenkins emerged from the opening round with the Gross Championship lead after an 82. And he did it with one of the best nine-hole stretches of the day. Jenkins opened with a 45, leaving him three shots behind defending Gross Champion Perry Medina, who went out in 42.

Then Jenkins flipped the championship. He came home in a field-best 37, eight shots better than his opening nine. Medina remained steady with a 41 coming home, but Jenkins' charge turned a three-shot deficit at the turn into a one-shot championship lead. Medina sits right behind him at 83.

Keith Davenport and Anthony Darby are tied at 88, six shots off the lead, while Maurice Brown and DeLano Bonner are tied at 92. Errol Blake follows at 93.

T5. Maurice Brown — 92

T5. DeLano Bonner — 92

7. Errol Blake — 93

There is still plenty of golf left to play.

Burnell Owns the Net Stage

If Jenkins owned the gross storyline, Burnell Williams owned the Net Championship. Williams posted a terrific net 69 — three under par — and walked away from the opening round with a five-shot advantage.

Jenkins' net 74 puts him second, followed by Darby and Blake at 75. Medina and Davenport are tied at 77, while Michael Conrad and Maurice Brown sit at 78.

Net Championship — After 18 Holes

1. Burnell Williams — 69 (-3)

2. Tony Jenkins — 74 (+2)

T3. Anthony Darby — 75 (+3)

T3. Errol Blake — 75 (+3)

T5. Perry Medina — 77 (+5)

T5. Keith Davenport — 77 (+5)

T7. Michael Conrad — 78 (+6)

T7. Maurice Brown — 78 (+6)

9. Hugh Lecky — 79 (+7)

T10. Raymond Woolfolk — 80 (+8)

T10. Zack Yamba — 80 (+8)

Williams' 69 was the only under-par net round in the entire 27-player field. Justen Dillard also posted a net 75 in the full-field competition. Although Dillard was not eligible for Club Championship honors, his performance counted toward the Shippen Cup—and would prove very important there.

Two Nines, Two Very Different Stories

Looking at the round in nine-hole segments tells an even better story.

Best Front Nines — Gross

Justen Dillard — 41

Perry Medina — 42

Anthony Darby — 43

Errol Blake — 44

Zack Yamba — 44

Tony Jenkins — 45

Burnell Williams — 45

Keith Davenport — 46

Joe McLaughlin — 46

Maurice Brown — 47

DeLano Bonner — 47

George Weekes — 47

Dillard set the early pace with a 41, while Medina's 42 put the defending champion exactly where he wanted to be. But the back nine changed everything.

Best Back Nines — Gross

Tony Jenkins — 37

Justen Dillard — 39

Perry Medina — 41

Keith Davenport — 42

Anthony Darby — 45

Maurice Brown — 45

DeLano Bonner — 45

Hugh Lecky — 45

Michael Conrad — 46

Greg Cavanaugh — 46

Raymond Woolfolk — 46

Jenkins' 37 was the lowest back nine in the entire field. Dillard was remarkably consistent at 41-39 for an 80, the lowest gross score among all 27 golfers, although he was not eligible for the Club Championship. Medina's 42-41 demonstrated why the defending champion remains firmly in the hunt.

Davenport improved from 46 to 42, while Lecky and Woolfolk made significant moves on the back, improving by six and seven shots respectively.

Eighteen holes rarely tell the whole story—and Saturday certainly didn't.

Championship Saturday Shakes Up the Shippen Cup

The Club Championship isn't just about crowning Gross and Net champions. It carries major consequences for the Shippen Cup. As has traditionally been the case with NJ Ball Strikers Club Championships and interclub matches, the top half of the field receives an additional 20 Shippen Cup points. With 27 players competing Saturday, the top-half cutoff extended through 13th place. Because Joe McLaughlin and George Weekes tied for 13th, both were included at the cutoff, bringing the group to 14 golfers. That tie also affected the normal stroke-play points awarded at that position. McLaughlin and Weekes shared the 30 points available across 13th and 14th place, receiving 15 points apiece.

The 14 Who Cashed In

The 14 players who finished within the top-half cutoff and earned the additional Shippen Cup award were:

Burnell Williams — 80 points

Tony Jenkins — 55 points

Justen Dillard — 55 points

Michael Conrad — 40 points

Anthony Darby — 40 points

Hugh Lecky — 40 points

Perry Medina — 40 points

Errol Blake — 40 points

Keith Davenport — 40 points

Maurice Brown — 40 points

Raymond Woolfolk — 30 points

Zack Yamba — 30 points

Joe McLaughlin — 15 points

George Weekes — 15 points

Those points didn't just reward a strong Championship round. They changed the shape of the season-long race.

The Shippen Cup Chase: Where the Leaders Stand

Williams entered Championship weekend sitting sixth in the Shippen Cup race. He left Saturday in first place. His tournament-leading 80-point haul pushed him to 279 total points, but there is virtually no separation behind him.

Shippen Cup — Top 10 After Championship Saturday

1. Burnell Williams — 279
2. Raymond Woolfolk — 273.50
3. Michael Conrad — 271.67
4. Zack Yamba — 271.25
5. Greg Ward — 245
6. Greg Cavanaugh — 240
7. Anthony Darby — 224
8. Hugh Lecky — 220.42
9. Joe McLaughlin — 182.50
10. Perry Medina — 183.33

Jenkins' strong Championship Saturday also added 55 points to his campaign, bringing him to 162.41, while Blake's 40-point day moved him to 160. The Championship round did exactly what a major event should do: it created movement.

Four Players — Less Than Eight Points

Look at the top of the Shippen Cup standings:

Burnell Williams — 279

Raymond Woolfolk — 273.50

Michael Conrad — 271.67

Zack Yamba — 271.25

Continued from previous page

That's four golfers separated by just 7.75 points. Williams leads Woolfolk by only 5.5 points. Conrad is only 7.33 points behind. Yamba is only 7.75 points back. After a season of golf, the Shippen Cup could hardly be tighter. Every point matters now.

One Round — Three Different Leaderboards

Championship Saturday demonstrated why the Ball Strikers' season-long competition has so many layers. The full field competed for Shippen Cup points. Those who had satisfied the club's 50% regular-season participation requirement were eligible to compete for Club Championship honors. And the Gross Championship carries its additional eligibility requirement involving the club's regular tees.

That is how Dillard could shoot the lowest gross score of the entire field with an 80, post a net 75 and collect 55 Shippen Cup points, yet not appear on either Club Championship leaderboard.

Different competitions.

Different eligibility.

Same golf course.

And every shot mattered.

A Championship Leaderboard With Plenty of Life

Jenkins will return to Neshanic protecting a one-shot Gross Championship lead over Medina. Davenport and Darby remain six shots back. Brown and Bonner are ten behind, with Blake another shot back. That's enough separation to establish a leader—but nowhere near enough to declare a champion.

On the Net side, Williams has built more breathing room with his five-shot advantage, but another full round remains. And looming over all of it is a Shippen Cup race in which the top four players are separated by fewer than eight points. The stage could hardly be better.

And Then Sunday Never Came

The original plan was simple:

Come back Sunday morning and settle it over another 18 holes. Mother Nature had other ideas. Rain forced the cancellation of Sunday's final round, but the Club Championship was not shortened to 18 holes. Instead, the championship will return to Neshanic for its conclusion on Sunday, October 11, with final-round tee times beginning at 10:50 a.m.

So now there is a date on the calendar—and unfinished business waiting for the Ball Strikers.

Jenkins will arrive protecting a one-shot Gross Championship lead over defending champion Medina.

Williams will arrive with a five-shot Net Championship advantage.

The players chasing them will have 18 holes to change the story.

And with the Shippen Cup race this tight, the final round carries implications far beyond the two Club Championship trophies.

Saturday gave us the leaderboard. It gave us a 37 from Jenkins. It gave us the defending champion sitting one shot back. It gave us the lowest gross round of the day from Dillard. It gave us a net 69 from Williams. And it completely reshaped the Shippen Cup race, leaving four players separated by less than eight points.

What it didn't give us was a champion.

That gets settled Sunday, October 11. First tee time: 10:50 a.m.
